Ground-breaking Ceremony for New Brunswick Naval Memorial

November 8, 2021 – Ottawa – National Defence / Canadian Armed Forces

Media are invited to attend ground-breaking ceremony for the New Brunswick Naval Memorial.

The NB Naval Memorial will commemorate the long and storied history of New Brunswick's significant role in the naval and maritime heritage of Canada. It will also commemorate the Battle of the Atlantic (1939-1945) and provide a constant reminder of all those who lost their lives while serving their country at sea in the cause of peace.

Co-hosted by: Commander Thomas Watts, Commanding Officer of HMCS Brunswicker, Captain (Navy) (retired) Paul Dempsey, chair of the NB Naval Memorial Committee, and Honorary Colonel Cheryl Robertson, ONB, President of NB Royal United Services Institute.

When: 2:00 p.m., Thursday, November 11, 2021.

Where: Harbour Passage (along the main Passage across from Fort LaTour)

-30-

Notes to editor / news director:

- Parking is available at the following areas: HMCS Brunswicker, Smythe Street Parking Lot, Station Street Parking Lot next to Skateboard Park and Lord Beaverbrook Rink.
- Social distancing (minimum 2 metres) will be respected.
- Media are asked to contact Naval Cadet Jolyne Roy at 506-261-4218 to confirm attendance and arrange interview opportunities.
